The East Norwalk Beautification Committee, lead by Michele Beyman, is the recipient of a PIN award in the category of landscaping. Through the encouragement of the Beautification Committee, the area in front of Cove Marina received a much-needed landscaping face-lift provided by the Gardella family. ## East Norwalk Electric Company News

Greg Goldstein, an electrician with nearly 20 years of experience, including supervisory experience, was hired in the position of apprentice lineman by the Third Taxing District in January, 2000. By joining the Electrical Department, Greg helped to fill a void in the Line Department and fortify the District's ability to respond to emergency situations.

Greg has been attending lineman training courses at training and certification facilities operated by Consolidated Edison of New York. He recently completed his training in pole climbing without the use of mechanical devices or trucks, which included extensive pole-top rescue training. In open competition between trainees enrolled in the program, Greg finished first, exceeding the speed of any other trainee.

Watch out for trick or treaters!
Have a safe Halloween!

We're glad to have Greg on staff, and wish him well as he continues his training, working toward the goal of certification as a lineman. Those skills, combined with his years of experience as a licensed electrician, make him a much desired and appreciated employee of the Third Taxing District. Another example of your community owned electric company hiring the best to provide to the finest.

Time to Change Your Clock

October 29 marks the end of daylight savings time. Time to "fall back". Remember to push your clock back one hour. The East Norwalk Fire Department also reminds you to change the batteries in your smoke detectors. It is important to keep fresh batteries in all your smoke detectors and the changing of the clocks is the perfect time to change the batteries. If you need advice on the best placement of your smoke detectors or the proper installation, contact the East Norwalk Fire Department.
